

Health and Human Services 12

Foundational Outcomes

Website References

Website references contained within this document are provided solely as a convenience and do not constitute an endorsement by the Department of Education of the content, policies, or products of the referenced website. The department does not control the referenced websites and subsequent links, and is not responsible for the accuracy, legality, or content of those websites. Referenced website content may change without notice.

Regional Education Centres and educators are required under the Department's Public School Programs Network Access and Use Policy to preview and evaluate sites before recommending them for student use. If an outdated or inappropriate site is found, please report it to <curriculum@novascotia.ca>.

© Crown copyright, Province of Nova Scotia, 2021

Prepared by the Department of Education and Early Childhood Development

This is the most recent version of the current curriculum materials as used by teachers in Nova Scotia.

The contents of this publication may be reproduced in part provided the intended use is for non-commercial purposes and full acknowledgment is given to the Nova Scotia Department of Education.

Health and Human Services 12

The Foundational Outcomes identified in this document represent outcomes determined to be relevant for future learning in the discipline. The foundational outcomes are meant to guide teachers in making decisions about creating learning experiences that will prepare and engage their learners in a responsive way. However, a teacher's professional judgment remains the most crucial factor for responding effectively to the needs of learners.

Health and Human Services 12 may be either an open or an academic credit. The specific curriculum outcomes identified by an asterisk (*) may be omitted by students who wish to receive the Open Credit.

Learning Outcomes Students will be expected to

1. identify the personal traits relevant to the helping careers associated with the health and human services field
2. identify the role of volunteers in the health and human services field
3. demonstrate an awareness of the social and health care systems and how to access the services they provide
4. identify career opportunities in the health and human services field
5. understand the need for caregivers to maintain personal and professional skills

Unit 1: Overview of the Helping Field

- 1.1 demonstrate an understanding of the nature of helping careers
- 1.2 identify their personal traits that make them suitable for working in the helping careers
- 1.3 identify the factors that influence the health of a community
- 1.5 identify the components of personal wellness
- 1.6 develop a plan for personal wellness
- 1.8* identify the determinants of health and report on how they influence the health of a community

Unit 2: Volunteer Experience

- 2.2 describe the roles and responsibilities of volunteers in the human services field
- 2.3* analyze and explain the difference between volunteering and community service
- 2.6* communicate the benefits gained through their volunteer placement

Unit 3: Health and Human Systems: A Systems Approach

- 3.1* identify and report on the demographic trends that have an impact on the need for health and human services