Re: Classroom-ready lesson plans about privacy

Dear Mr. LeRoux,

My colleagues at the Information and Privacy Commissioner's Office (IPC) in Ontario have developed four free classroom-ready lesson plans to help educators teach students in Grades 2 through 8 about why privacy is important and how to protect their privacy online. Each lesson plan also includes student handouts that can be printed or completed as a fillable PDF.

The lesson plans cover the following topics and are designed to be used with the IPC's Privacy Pursuit! activity booklet:

- What is Privacy? \(Grades 2 – 3\)
- Protecting Your Privacy \(Grades 4 – 5\)
- The Value of Privacy \(Grades 6 – 7\)
- My Privacy, Your Privacy \(Grades 7 – 8\)

The materials are all also available in French. The activity booklet can be found here: Ta vie privée : c'est à toi!. The French lesson plans can be found here:

- Qu'est-ce que la protection de la vie privée? \(2^e et 3^e année\)
- Protéger sa vie privée \(4^e et 5^e année\)
- La valeur de la vie privée \(6^e et 7^e année\)
- Ma vie privée et la tienne \(7^e et 8^e année\)

I wanted to share in case they may be of use to classrooms in Nova Scotia.

Yours truly,

Tricia Ralph
Information and Privacy Commissioner for Nova Scotia
